To be an Expert Learner at Sirius Academy West, not only does your attendance, punctuality and general attitude in and around the Academy need to be excellent, you must also demonstrate Expert Learner Habits in all of your lessons. These habits will allow you to perform at your best within lessons, achieving the standards of which you are capable.

The 7 Bullet Points

I follow basic routines upon entry to the classroom, including putting all required equipment on my desk.

I present my work to the best of my ability, including using a ruler to underline the date and title.

I produce work to the best of my ability in every lesson, striving to be my best.

I respond to feedback, making effective use of green pen time to improve the quality of my work.

I am proactive in my engagement in the lesson, asking and answering questions when appropriate and joining in discussion.

I demonstrate an expert attitude in response to staff instructions, including active listening.

I ensure that all homework tasks are completed on time, to the best standard that I can produce.

Each half-term, teaching staff will judge each student in their class on the Expert Learner Habit list above. This will then directly influence the end of half-term Attitude to Learning Review which is completed in Lesson 1.
